Section I - EEO & Affirmative Action Requirements

What is a Compliance Review?

Compliance reviews are conducted in an effort to determine whether a federal contractor (prime or subcontractor) performing work on a federal-aid project is in compliance with its contractual non-discrimination and affirmative action requirements. This review consists of making an evaluation and determination of a contractor's compliance with those contract provisions relative to EEO, subcontracting, and training as outlined in 23 CFR Section 230.407(n).

The following is a brief description of each of the contract compliance components:

Step 1 – Planning: MoDOT reviews current and future projects to determine which projects will be reviewed.

Step 2 – Preliminary Analysis: This step involves review of the documentation (contract compliance EEO questionnaire) submitted by the contractor.

Step 3 – On-site verification: After completing the preliminary analysis of the data and information submitted, an on-site review is performed which includes conducting interviews, physical tour of job site, exit conference, etc.

Step 4 – Compliance Determination: All documentation and on-site information is reviewed to determine in the contractor is in compliance with the EEO provisions.

Step 5 – Corrective Action: A contractor found in non-compliance of minor deficiencies can develop and submit an acceptable Voluntary Corrective Action Plan (VCAP) within 15 days following the exit conference. Contractors who have major deficiencies which include underutilization of minorities and females, signs of discrimination, allowing DBE's not to perform a Commercially Useful Function (CUF), etc will be issued a show cause notice and will be required to enter into an Corrective Action Plan (CAP) in order to correct the deficiencies.

Conducting Compliance Reviews

1. Purpose

The purpose of a Compliance Review is to determine if the prime or subcontractors maintain nondiscriminatory hiring and employment practices and are taking affirmative action as outlined in the EEO Special Provisions and the Training Special Provisions, and to ensure applicants are employed and placed, trained, upgraded, promoted and otherwise treated equally during employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin or age. The review provides a comprehensive evaluation of all aspects of employment practices and conditions.

The selection of a contractor for Compliance Reviews is based upon one or more of the following:

- Contractors or projects, which offer the greatest potential for employment and promotion of minorities and females, particularly to higher-skilled crafts or occupations.
- Contractors or projects in areas, which have a significant minority and female labor forces within a reasonable recruitment area.
- Contractors or projects that have the type of projects (grading, paving, bridge, etc.) as it relates to potential employment on the projects.
- Contractors or projects that have contracts that include training special provisions.
- Contractors who through a review of statistical data on past and/or current minority and females employment indicates a need.

5. Investigating Complaints

Investigation Framework – This information is being offered as a sample investigation procedure. Under no circumstances should this information be used as comprehensive document or have legal sufficiency for contractors. You should follow all applicable laws and regulations in developing your investigation procedures to ensure compliance.

Receiving and reviewing the complaint

Initial receipt and acknowledgement of the complaint
Complainant interview
Create an investigation file
Maintain privacy of records

Determine Jurisdiction (Complaint/Issue Analysis/Timeliness/Standing to file)

Review and apply relevant State and Federal laws and regulations
Review and apply company policies
Allegations raised (Adverse act)
Identify the basis of the complaint (Protected classes)

Creating an Investigation Plan

Review the file and try to answer these questions (at minimum)
--Can jurisdiction be verified?
--Can a prima facie case be established under the proper formula?
--Can the accused provide a defense to the prima facie case? Are there facts adequate to prove the underlying conduct supporting the cause of action and thereby prevail?
--Can this defense be affirmed or rebutted?
Determine what records to request and questions to ask of witnesses

Before writing the plan, analyze the charge(s) and review any supporting material in an effort to answer, at a minimum, the four questions listed above. Creating an investigation plan allows the investigator to focus on the important questions, which need to be answered including the relevant legal theories. In this way, irrelevant questions or inquiries can be avoided. The plan should be revised as the investigation proceeds to account for new information or critical questions answered following interviews and/or document reviews. After constructing your plan, select the first person you would like to interview. This individual is likely to be interviewed first because he/she has been determined to have the most information. For this reason, the plan usually identifies the complaining party as the first person to be interviewed.

Complaint Resolution

You may decide that it is appropriate to attempt settlement prior to a detailed investigation or at any time during an investigation. However, you should ensure that you have enough information when you do discuss settlement to be certain that the relief you are offering is sufficient for the case at hand.

Conducting the Investigation

If a decision is made to conduct an investigation, you should provide written notice to the parties that you have accepted the complaint for investigation. In your letter to the parties indicate, 1) the basis for the complaint; 2) a brief statement of the allegation(s) over which your company has authority to investigate; 3) a brief statement of the company's authority to investigate the allegations brought against the respondent; 4) a statement that the investigation will be conducted in a confidential manner to the fullest extent possible; 5) an offer to engage in settlement discussions with the parties at any time during the process (this may not be possible if the allegations are complex or involves a class of individuals); and 6) an indication of when the parties will be contacted. Create an investigation file, which contains all information acquired or documented in relation to the complaint.

Interviews

When interviewing keep in mind that you are looking for information, which refutes or supports the allegations. Explain the purpose of the interview, listen effectively, probe effectively with your questions, recognize the difference between factual information and opinions, take clear and precise notes, and deal with negative reactions by being professional and impartial at all times. Stress that interviews are confidential and generally should not be discussed outside the interview setting.

Documents

Most investigations will depend upon documents or written information. The review of relevant documents during an investigation is critical to an effective investigation.

Final Report

Once information from interviews and documents have been reviewed and analyzed relevant to the allegations, you should prepare a final investigative report. The final report summarizes the important facts found and the conclusions drawn from the investigation. It should be prepared in a manner, which can be easily read and understood by a reviewer/decision maker. Generally, the final report is not released to the complainant or the recipient except in conjunction with a judicial or administrative proceeding.

Closure Letter

In preparing a closure letter, include a restatement of the authority under which the contractor to conducted the investigation. State the allegation(s), which were investigated, and the findings for each allegation (allegations supported or not supported). If the findings do not support the allegations, identify complainant's appeal rights in complainant's closure letter.

Upon completion of each investigation, the EEO Officer will inform every complainant of all of their avenues of appeal. The following are the addresses for avenues for appeals:

The contractor must document follow-up contact with these sources. Written documentation should include whom the contractor spoke to, date, discussion, and any information provided. When letters are sent to recruitment sources for vacant positions, follow-up contact must be made and documented. If a contractor simply sends out letters and does not follow-up with the sources, this will not be considered a GFE (good faith effort) to locate minority and female applicants.
- G. The contractor shall document all recruitment efforts and retain this documentation in the firm's EEO files.
- H. The phrase "An Equal Opportunity Employer" must be included in all written ads for employment. Ad can also include the statement that minority and females are encouraged to apply and are being actively recruited.

10. Personnel Actions {FHWA 1273, Section II, (5)},

The EEO Officer must be properly trained on how to conduct investigations.

12. Training {FHWA 1273, Section II, (6)},

- A. The contractor shall develop on-the-job training opportunities and/or participate in training programs that expressly include minorities and women. Programs, including union apprentice programs, must be approved by the Department of Labor, Bureau of Apprentice and Training, or MoDOT.
- B. Contractors may meet this requirement by actively participating in the AGC Missouri Manpower Development and Training Program or any other program that has been approved by the U.S. Department of Labor or MoDOT.
- C. Contractors must make a good faith effort to achieve the contractual trainee goals and to hire minorities and females who have successfully completed training.
- D. The contractor should provide notification to minority and women recruitment sources of their participation in training programs.
- E. Current employees should be notified of training opportunities in order to assist in recruitment.

- G. No trainee shall be paid less than 60% of the journey wage for the classification they are training in. Where feasible, 25 percent of apprentices or trainees in each occupation shall be in their first year of apprenticeship or training.

13. Unions {FHWA 1273, Section II, (7)},

- A. The contractor shall provide immediate written notification to MoDOT and to the Director of the OFCCP if any union with which the contractor has a collective bargaining agreement has not referred a minority or female sent to the union by the contractor, or when the contractor has information that the union referral process has impeded the contractor's efforts to meet its obligations.
- B. In the event the union is unable to provide the contractor with a reasonable flow of minority and women referrals within the time limit set forth in the collective bargaining agreement, the contractor will, through independent recruitment efforts, fill the employment vacancies without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age or disability; making full efforts to obtain qualified minority group persons and women. It shall be no excuse that the union with which the contractor has a collective bargaining agreement providing exclusive referral failed to refer minority and female employees.)
- C. The contractor will pursue best efforts to incorporate an EEO clause into each union agreement to the end that such union will be contractually bound to refer applicants without regard to their race, color, retaliation, sex, national original, age or disability.
- D. Employees of union contractors should have documentation showing their union status (permit or cards). This documentation may be requested by MoDOT personnel on a random basis.

14. Working Environment

- A. The contractor must maintain a working environment free of harassment, coercion and intimidation at all sites and facilities.

15. Disadvantaged Business Enterprises

- A. Each Contractor must designate in writing a "Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Liaison (DBE) Officer". That person must have the authority to carry out the required duties. A letter needs to be sent to the DBE officer outlining their duties and responsibilities on a yearly basis.
- B. Notification of this appointment must be forwarded to all contracting agencies, posted on the company bulletin board, and retained.
- C. MoDOT requires that solicitation of certified DBE firms, and any responses or follow-up, be documented and records maintained for three (3) years.
- D. A directory of DBE firms may be obtained from MoDOT or found on the MoDOT website at:

<http://www.modot.mo.gov/ecr/index.htm>
- E. Contractors must make a good faith effort in bidding and replacement of DBE firms. Contractors are responsible for ensuring that the DBE's perform a commercially useful function (CUF).

16. Written Affirmative Action Plan

- A. Every contractor/subcontractor must have a written Affirmative Action Plan if they have 50 or more employees or any contract over $50,000.00.
- B. In preparing an AAP, it should be customized to reflect an employer's organizational structure, policies, practices, programs, and data. In addition to the records an employer is required to compile and maintain to support the AAP [41 CFR 60-1.12 and 60-2.17(d)], the employer should also keep materials evidencing its affirmative action efforts. This may include items such as copies of collective bargaining agreements and other documents that indicate employment policies and practices; copies of letters sent to suppliers and vendors stating the EEO/affirmative action policy; copies of letters sent to recruitment sources and community organizations; and copies of contract language incorporating the EEO clause.

- C. Reporting of complaints – Identify the employees rights and steps to be taken by an employee if they desire to file a complaint. Identify other all avenues employees have to file complaints including Missouri Human Rights Commission, OFCCP, EEO Commission, etc.
- D. The Affirmative Action Plan must be signed by the head of the company and be affirmed annually.
- E. A sample Affirmative Action Plan can be viewed on the Office of Federal Contract Compliance website.
<http://www.dol.gov/esa/regs/compliance/ofccp/pdf/sampleaap.pdf>
- F. 41 CFR 60-2.10 – General purpose and contents of AAP

(a) Purpose.

(1) An affirmative action program is a management tool designed to ensure equal employment opportunity. A central premise underlying affirmative action is that, absent discrimination, over time a contractor's workforce, generally, will reflect the gender, racial and ethnic profile of the labor pools from which the contractor recruits and selects. Affirmative action programs contain a diagnostic component which includes a number of quantitative analyses designed to evaluate the composition of the workforce of the contractor and compare it to the composition of the relevant labor pools. Affirmative action programs also include action-oriented programs. If women and minorities are not being employed at a rate to be expected given their availability in the relevant labor pool, the contractor's affirmative action program includes specific practical steps designed to address this underutilization. Effective affirmative action programs also include internal auditing and reporting systems as a means of measuring the contractor's progress toward achieving the workforce that would be expected in the absence of discrimination.

(2) An affirmative action program also ensures equal employment opportunity by institutionalizing the contractor's commitment to equality in every aspect of the employment process. Therefore, as part of its affirmative action program, a contractor monitors and examines its employment decisions and compensation systems to evaluate the impact of those systems on women and minorities.

(3) An affirmative action program is, thus, more than a paperwork exercise. An affirmative action program includes those policies, practices, and procedures that the contractor implements to ensure that all qualified applicants and employees are receiving an equal opportunity for recruitment, selection, advancement, and every other term and privilege associated with employment. Affirmative action, ideally, is a part of the way the contractor regularly conducts its business. OFCCP has found that when an affirmative action program is approached from this perspective, as a powerful management tool, there is a positive correlation between the presence of affirmative action and the absence of discrimination.

(b) Contents of affirmative action programs.

(1) An affirmative action program must include the following quantitative analyses:

- (i) Organizational profile--Sec. 60-2.11;
- (ii) Job group analysis--Sec. 60-2.12;
- (iii) Placement of incumbents in job groups--Sec. 60-2.13;
- (iv) Determining availability--Sec. 60-2.14;
- (v) Comparing incumbency to availability--Sec. 60-2.15; and
- (vi) Placement goals--Sec. 60-2.16.

(2) In addition, an affirmative action program must include the following components specified in the Sec. 60-2.17 of this part:

- (i) Designation of responsibility for implementation;
- (ii) Identification of problem areas;
- (iii) Action-oriented programs; and
- (iv) Periodic internal audits.

(c) Documentation. Contractors must maintain and make available to OFCCP documentation of their compliance with Secs. 60-2.11 through 60-2.17.

17. Workforce Analysis

A contractor's workforce is analyzed to determine if there is a reasonable representation (number of people) and utilization (work hours) of minorities and women in each craft, classification or occupation, given their availability in the relevant labor market. The contractor will be required to demonstrate a good faith effort (GFE) if the representation (number of people) or utilization (work hours) of minorities and women is less than their availability in the contractor's workforce. Form letters are not considered as a productive activity. In the absence of reasonable representation in any craft, the contractor will be required to provide proof of having requested referrals of minorities and women (i.e., records of telephone requests, including dates and times, person talked with, specific crafts for which minorities and women were requested. It shall be no excuse by the contractor that a union, that the contractor has a collective bargaining agreement providing for exclusive referral, failed to refer minority and female employees (23 CFR 230.411).

The contractor shall utilize data obtained from Civil Labor Force Data or other similar data that shows the availability of minorities and females to determine the availability of those individuals in the area in which the federal-aid project is located. MoDOT or FHWA do not enforce timetables or goals on projects. The OFCCP is responsible for ensuring the timetables and goals are enforced on projects.

18. Commercially Useful Function (CUF)

A prime contractor will be given credit, towards the applicable DBE contract goal, for the amounts paid to the DBE firm only if that firm performs a commercially useful function. Failure to fulfill this obligation will be considered a breach of contract and liquidated damages will be assessed by the Department. The Department will determine compliance with the commercially useful function requirement through application of the following principals:

- (a) the DBE is responsible for the performance, management and supervision of a distinct element of the work, in accordance with normal industry practice (except where such practices are inconsistent with the DBE regulations and these guidelines)
- (b) the firm receives compensation, as agreed upon, for the work performed, regardless as to whether or not the agreement is standard industry practice. If the agreement erodes the ownership, control or independence of the DBE firm or does not meet the commercially useful function requirements, the contractor will not receive credit towards the contractual goal.

The following situations are examples of a DBE firm that is not performing a commercially useful function under the definition above.

- (a) the work to be performed by the DBE is outside of the DBE's known experience or capability
- (b) the DBE provides little or no supervision of the work, the DBE superintendent is not a regular employee of that firm or supervision is performed by personnel associated with the prime contractor, another business or personnel not under the control of the DBE firm
- (c) the DBE's workforce is not under the DBE firm's control and direction or work is performed by personnel normally employed by the prime contractor or another business
- (d) any part of the work designated to be performed by a DBE subcontractor is performed by the prime contractor
- (e) a substantial portion of the equipment used by the DBE firm belongs to the prime contractor or another contractor with no formal lease agreement or the equipment signs and markings cover another owner's identity, usually through the use of magnetic signs. The Division office will determine "substantial portion" on a case by case basis
- (f) materials or supplies, necessary for the DBE firm's performance, are delivered to, billed to or paid by another business
- (g) the DBE firm subcontracts or assigns any portion of work to another firm
- (h) the DBE firm is working without a subcontract agreement approved by the Department, except in the case of trucking
- (i) a DBE trucking business utilizes trucks owned by the prime contractor
- (j) a DBE prime contractor subcontracts more than 50% of the contract value
- (k) a DBE prime contractor only purchases materials while performing little or no work

- (l) the agreement between the prime contractor and DBE firm artificially inflates the DBE participation or erodes the ownership, control or independence of the firm
- (m) a DBE firm works for only one prime contractor
- (n) employees work for the DBE firm and the prime contractor or mentor
- (o) the volume of work is beyond the capacity of the DBE firm
- (p) inquiries by Department or FHWA representatives are answered by the prime contractor or mentor
- (q) the DBE firm's owner is not aware of the status of the work or the performance of the business.

19. Notice To OFCCP

- A. The contractor must provide written notification to the Director of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) within ten (10) working days of award of any construction subcontract in excess of $10,000 at any tier for construction work under a federal-aid contract. {41 CFR 60-4.2d(3)} The following is contact information for local OFCCP office in Missouri:

U.S. Department of Labor ESA – OFCCP 2300 Main Street, Room 1030 Kansas City, MO 64105 (816)-502-0370 -phone	U.S. Department of Labor ESA – OFCCP Robert A. Young Building 1222 Spruce St, Room 10-207 St. Louis, MO 63103 (314)-539-6394
- B. The notification must list the name, address, telephone number, estimated dollar amount of the subcontract, estimated starting and completion dates of the subcontract, and the geographical area in which the contract is to be performed.
- C. A sample letter is provided in the back of the manual. It is recommended that a copy of this letter be kept in the EEO file.

Section II - Wage Rates and Payrolls

Contractors must conform to all Labor and Equal Employment Opportunity provisions included therein. The following information has been compiled as an aid in fulfilling the requirements for each area:

1. Wage Rates

- A. All construction contracts entered into by MoDOT contain provisions and regulations governing the employment and payment of persons engaged to perform work by contractors, subcontractors and others.
- B. The prevailing rate of wages, overtime, and fringe benefits for the locality of the work, as determined by the Federal Wage Rates, Department of Labor and Industrial Relations of Missouri, or by any court decision is contained in the proposal by special provision. The contractor and all subcontractors must pay not less than the prevailing rate of wages, overtime, and fringe benefits for all work performed under the contract.
- C. In the event of a conflict between any prevailing wage rate, overtime, or fringe benefits as determined by the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations and any minimum rate of wages, overtime, or fringe benefits as determined by the Secretary of Labor, where the latter is applicable, the greater of the two applies.

2. Payrolls {FHWA 1273, Section V},

- A. The prime contractor, and each subcontractor, is required to submit one original certified copy of payrolls for each week that work is in progress. If work is temporarily suspended, the last payrolls should be appropriately marked to note that it will be the last payroll until work is resumed. The payroll records shall contain the name, last four digits of the social security number (or another indentifying number), and address of each employee; his or her classification; hourly rates of wages paid (fringe benefits); daily and weekly number of hours worked; deductions made; and actual wages paid.
- B. An original certified copy of each weekly payroll must be submitted by the prime contractor within 7 days of the payment date of the payroll. The certification may be attached to the payroll or may be on the payroll itself. The prime contractor will be considered responsible for submittal of payrolls and certifications for all subcontractors on the project.
- C. Failure to submit the payrolls within the 7-day period will result in delay in submittal of the engineer's payment estimates for each project involved.

Estimates not submitted by the established date are withheld until the next estimate period. In addition, the contractor's performance rating may be negatively impacted.

- D. The statement of compliance form must accompany all certified payrolls. The statement of compliance form must describe each deduction listed on the certified payroll and be described under Section 1 of the Statement of Compliance form. An original statement of compliance and certified payroll must be submitted to the Resident Engineer (RE) Office within 7 days. The RE Office must received the original documents from the prime and subcontractor
- E. Contractor's payrolls, certifications, and statements of compliance are not required on Railroad or other Utility Adjustments, or on Maintenance funded projects.
- F. Wage rate interviews are conducted by project personnel as follows:
 - One wage rate interview on each Interstate Project per week
 - One wage rate interview on each Federal-aid Primary or Federal-Aid Urban Project every two weeks
 - One wage rate interview on Supplementary and 100% State Financed Projects every four weeks

Labor interviews are not required on Railroad and other Utility Adjustments.

- G. Contractors or subcontractors employing apprentices or trainees under approved programs shall maintain written evidence of the registration of apprentices and trainees, and ratio and wage rates prescribed in the applicable programs. Documentation of the enrollment shall be provided to MoDOT prior to the individual commencing work on the project.
- H. The correct employee work classifications must be shown. The classification shown on the payroll should coincide with the classifications shown on the Wage Rate Decision in the contract. Employees must be paid for the specific craft they are working on the project.
- I. Hourly wage rates, including fringe benefits where applicable, and overtime hourly rates must be shown for each employee, for each craft worked.
- J. Daily and weekly hours worked in each classification, including actual overtime hours, worked must be shown.

4. Truck Drivers

- A. The names of owners/drivers of owner-operated trucks must appear on applicable payrolls. The name and classification "Owner-Operator" is all that is necessary. No other information, such as hours worked, amount paid, etc., needs to be shown.
- B. Davis-Bacon wage rates do not apply to owner/operator trucking transactions. However, if the individual spends a significant amount of time on the project they will be required to be paid prevailing wage on the project. For example, an individual driving a water truck on the project and spends a significant amount of time on the project will be required to be paid prevailing wage for those hours on the project.
- C. If the work involves hauling done on the actual site where the construction in the contract will remain when work has been completed, the truck drivers are covered by the Davis-Bacon Act and are subject to prevailing wage rates.
- D. If the work involves hauling from an adjacent or nearby property dedicated exclusively, or nearly so, to performance of the contract or project, and the site is located in proximity to the actual construction location so that it would be reasonable to include them, the truck drivers are covered by the Davis-Bacon Act and subject to prevailing wage rates.
- E. If the work involves hauling from an off-site location, such as permanent home offices, branch plant establishments, fabrication plants, and/or tool yards of a contractor or subcontractor, whose locations and continuance in operation are determined wholly without regard to a particular Federal or federally assisted contract or project, the truck drivers are not covered by the Davis-Bacon Act and are not subject to prevailing wage rates.
- F. The Fabrication plants, batch plants, borrow pits, job headquarters, etc., of a commercial supplier, established by a supplier of materials before opening of bids and not on the project site, are not part of the site of work.
- G. Determinations of Davis-Bacon coverage must be based solely on the location of the truck drivers' job site, rather than the employment status of the driver. These determinations must occur on a case-by-case basis. It is important that the contractor indicate as early as possible how the trucking and hauling operations will occur on the project.

5. Employment Of Trainees

- A. A subcontractor can be used to meet the training requirement, however, the contractor must determine how many of the trainees are to be trained by the subcontractor and the contractor shall retain the primary responsibility for meeting the training requirements. Where feasible, 25 percent of apprentices or trainees in each occupation shall be in the first year of apprenticeship or training.

- B. The number of trainees shall be distributed among the work classifications on the basis of the contractor's needs and the availability of journey workers in the various classifications within a reasonable area of recruitment. Prior to commencing construction on the project, the contractor must submit to MoDOT the number of trainees to be trained in each classification and the training program to be used for approval. The ECR Unit will approve all trainee notifications submitted by the contractor.
- C. Training and upgrading of minorities and women to journey status is a primary objective of the On the Job Training requirement. The contractor shall make every effort to enroll minorities and women. The contractor is responsible for demonstrating the steps taken to illustrate that a "good faith effort" was made to meet the training requirements.
- D. No employee shall be employed as a trainee in any classification in which that employee has successfully completed a training course leading to journey status, or has been employed as a journey worker. The contractor should satisfy this requirement by including appropriate questions in the employee application or by other suitable means.
- E. The minimum length and type of training for each classification must be established in the training program selected by the contractor and approved by MoDOT. MoDOT may approve a training program if it is reasonably calculated to meet the equal employment opportunity obligations and to qualify the trainee for journey status in the classification at the end of the training period.
- F. Apprenticeship programs registered with the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, or with a State apprenticeship agency recognized by the Bureau, and training programs approved but not necessarily sponsored by the Department of Labor, Manpower Administration, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training shall also be considered acceptable provided the program is being administered in a manner consistent with the equal employment obligations of Federal-aid highway construction contracts. Approval from MoDOT must be secured prior to proceeding.
- G. MoDOT must approve any training program prior to the trainee/apprentice commencing work in the classification covered by the program. It is the intention of these provisions for training to be provided in the construction crafts rather than clerk-typists or secretarial positions. Training is permissible in lower level management positions such as office engineers, estimators, timekeepers, etc., where the training is oriented toward construction applications, however, these requests will be strictly scrutinized. Training in the laborer classification may be permitted provided significant and meaningful training is provided. Limited off site training is permissible if the training is an integral part of an approved training program and does not comprise a significant part of the overall training. If a trainee is denied by the ECR Office on a project, it does not exclude the contractor from using the individual on the project; however, any hours completed will not count towards the goal on the project.

- H. Reimbursement may be made for training hours in excess of the number specified in the contract. This reimbursement will be made even though the contractor receives additional training program funds from other sources, provided such other source does not specifically prohibit the contractor from receiving other reimbursement. Requests for approval must be submitted in writing to the Resident Engineer and forwarded to the External Civil Rights Administrator for final approval.
- I. It is expected that a trainee will begin working on a project as soon as feasible after the start of work utilizing the skill involved, and will remain on the project as long as training opportunities exist in the work classification, or until they have completed the training program. It is not required that all trainees work the entire length of the contract.
- J. Trainees must be paid at least 60 percent of the appropriate minimum journey worker's rate specified in the contract for the first half of the training period, 75 percent for the third quarter of the training period, and 90 percent for the last quarter of the training period, unless apprentices or trainees in an approved existing program or enrolled as trainees on this project. In that case, the appropriate rates set out in the approved program shall apply to all trainees being trained for the same classification covered in the contract.
- K. A trainee/apprentice must be pre-approved by MoDOT ECR Office prior to the trainee/apprentice beginning work on the project. Trainee goals are assigned in 1,000 hour increments or 1 slot (person). Only one trainee can be utilized to meet the 1,000 hour goal on the project. If the trainee goal is 2,000 hours, no more than 2 trainees can be used to meet the goal. The only exception would be if a trainee quits and must be replaced on the project.
1,000 – 1 trainee; 2,000 – 2 trainees; 3,000 – 3 trainees; 4,000 – 4 trainees
- L. A copy of the most recent trainee special provision (TSP) can be found at: http://www.modot.mo.gov/business/contractor_resources/External_Civil_Rights/jobtraining.htm

6. Working Foreman

- A. An individual performing work of a supervisory nature is exempt from Davis-Bacon wage rates. However, if over 20 percent of the individual's time is spent performing duties that are covered under classifications included in the prevailing wage publication(s), including overtime that time is subject to the appropriate wage classification pay rate. The number of hours worked, hourly rate paid and other applicable data must be reflected in the certified payrolls.

Section III – Bulletin Boards

Information to be Posted

Department personnel will regularly inspect the project site bulletin board to ensure compliance with the requirements contained in the special provisions. Those requirements include:

- (a) Form FHWA 1273, and addendum, contained in all current Federal-Aid contracts, requires placement of notices and posters setting forth the contractor's EEO Policy. These should be placed at the project trailer or the area on the project where employees regularly congregate. The required notices include:
 - (1) Contractor's signed EEO Policy
 - (2) Notice of contractors and subcontractors EEO Officer, including the name, address and telephone number
 - (3) Federal and State Wage Rate Notices
 - (4) Notice to Labor Unions of Contractor's commitment to EEO
 - (5) Notice requesting Minority and Female referrals from present employees
 - (6) Notice to employees and applicants of available training programs and entrance requirements

The required posters include and bulletin board checklist are located at:
http://www.modot.mo.gov/business/contractor_resources/forms.htm

- (b) The board is in good condition.
- (c) No items may be posted on the back of the board.
- (d) The board has weatherproof protection. Weatherproof protection is not a contractual requirement, however it is desirable. Any faded or blurred material must be replaced immediately.
- (e) If the project is a federal aid project it must include both federal aid and state posters.
- (f) Bulletin boards must be placed on the project site and in a location accessible to all employees and potential applicants.
- (g) Binder style bulletin boards are not acceptable unless the project is an overlay project where the project will be completed in a short time frame.

If there is no project specific site for the bulletin board, which may include, for an example, near a portable john, which has been established along the roadside, then the bulletin board may be kept in a foreman's vehicle, as long as it contains all of the standard requirements, and it is made accessible to all workers.

Section IV – Data Reports and Subcontractors Lists

Guide To The Required Employment Data Reports

1. Who Is Required To Fill Out The Forms?

- A. Prime contractors who have a federal-aid contract with the MoDOT with a value amount equal to or greater than $10,000 are required to submit Employment Data Reports quarterly throughout the year. Prime contractors who have a federal-aid contract with MoDOT with a value amount equal to or greater than $10,000 are required to submit subcontractor Lists quarterly throughout the year. Suppliers, consultants and surveyors are not required to complete the reports and subcontractor lists.
- B. During each reporting period the contractor is required to submit one employment data report per project as well as one company-wide data report. The contractor may be required to submit more than one project specific data report depending on the number of active federal-aid projects the contractor is working on during the reporting period. During the Annual Data Reporting Period the contractor will only be required to complete the company-wide data report and not project specific data reports.

The front cover of all MoDOT contracts indicates whether or not the job is federally funded. These projects could include construction projects, off-systems projects, etc.

2. What Subcontractor Lists Are Required, And When Are They Due?

- A. Prime contractors are required to submit a subcontractor list for Pre-Season, 1391 and Post Season reporting periods. The list should contain the name of each subcontractor that worked on any MoDOT federally funded project as well as the job number of the project. The subcontractor lists are due as follows:

Subcontractor List	Due Date
Pre-Season Subcontractor List	April 10 th
1391 Contractor List	August 10 th
Post-Season Subcontractor List	October 10 th

*The subcontractor list is required as referenced in the FHWA 1273, required contract Provisions Federal-Aid Construction Contracts, included in each MoDOT federal-aid contract. Although reminder notices sent out by MoDOT are a courtesy, it is the contractor's responsibility to complete and submit the subcontractor list by the above due date.

- B. The subcontractor list does not have to be submitted on a certain form. The subcontractor list is simply a typed list of what subcontractors were used during the appropriate reporting period. For further details, review the question and answers at the end of this section.

3. What Data Forms Are Required, And When Are They Due?

- A. The four reports due include the Annual Employment Data Report, Pre-Season Employment Data Report, 1391, and the Post-Season Employment Data Report. Each data report must be submitted, as required in the FHWA-1273, Required Contract Provisions Federal-Aid Construction Contracts, included in each MoDOT Federally Funded contract, including off-systems projects. The contractor is required to submit one data report per federal-aid project worked on during the reporting period and one company-wide data report for the reporting period. The contractor may be required to complete more than one project specific data report depending on the number of federal-aid projects worked on during the reporting period. During the Annual Reporting period the contractor is only required to submit the company wide data report.

Again, you are required to complete two sets of data reports reflecting employment during the reporting period. One form is titled “Federal-aid Contractor’s Employment Report on Projects Let by the Missouri Department of Transportation” and is to be used to report the breakdown of the employees utilized on each individual federal-aid projects only. If you worked on more than one MoDOT federally funded project you will be required to submit one form for each project you worked on. If you had an employee that worked on more than one federal-aid project during the reporting period do not list the employee on both reports, only list the employee on the project in which the employee worked a majority of their time on. Each report must reflect the number of employees who worked on that specific project only.

The second form is titled “Company Wide Report of Total Employment on All Federal and Non-Federal Projects let by the Missouri Department of Transportation” and is to be used to report the breakdown of the total employees utilized on federal-aid and non-federal projects.

1. The Annual Employment Data Report is due on February 1st of each year. The data reported must set out the company wide employment during the entire previous year. If the company did not work on any MoDOT federally funded projects during that entire year, the report does not need to be filled out, however, the company must submit a letter to that effect.

2. The Pre-Season Employment Data Report is due on May 1st of each year. The data reported must set out the company wide employment for the payroll period for the last week of March. In addition, the contractor must complete one employment data report per project the contractor worked on during the reporting period. If the company did not work on any MoDOT federally funded projects during that week, the report does not need to be filled out, however, the company must submit a letter to that effect.
3. The 1391 report is due on September 1st of each year. The data reported must set out the company wide employment for the payroll period during the last week of July. In addition, the contractor must complete one employment data report per project the contractor worked on during the reporting period. If the company did not work on any MoDOT federally funded projects during that week, the report does not need to be filled out, however, the company must submit a letter to that effect.
4. The Post-Season Employment Data Report is due on November 1st of each year. The data reported must set out the company wide employment for the payroll period for the last week of September. In addition, the contractor must complete one employment data report per project the contractor worked on during the reporting period. If the company did not work on any MoDOT federally funded projects during that week, the report does not need to be filled out, however, the company must submit a letter to that effect.

*The data reports are required in the FHWA 1273, required contract Provisions Federal-Aid Construction Contracts, included in each MoDOT Federally Funded contract. Although reminder notices sent out by MoDOT are a courtesy, it is the contractor's responsibility to complete and submit the data reports by the above due date. If MoDOT does not receive the data reports or subcontractor lists by the due date, the contractor's name will be submitted to FHWA as non-responsive.

The information reported must be obtained from the certified payrolls for the time period to be reported. An original of each of these forms is included in this manual. If you would like to obtain an electronic Microsoft Excel version copy of the forms, please e-mail Missy.Stuedle@modot.mo.gov. It is the responsibility of the EEO Officer to submit these reports and subcontractor lists by the due date. MoDOT will not provide the contractor with a reminder to submit the reports or the subcontractor list by the deadline. Incomplete reports will be returned to the contractor for re-submission. If your payroll system or other computer program will allow you to create a document similar to the data report, please contact our office at 573-751-1216 and we will review the document to determine if the report can be submitted in lieu of the data reports.

4. Completing The Required Employment Data Reports

- A. In the column titled "Company Name" enter the name and mailing information for your company.
- B. Company-wide reports: In the column titled "Number of Projects" enter the total number of federally funded contracts worked on during the time period being reported as well as the Job Numbers. If a contract is being worked on over a number of years, the contract should be counted each year on the Annual Employment Data Report. Project-specific reports: In the column titled "Job Number" enter the specific job number for the federal-aid project you are reporting on.
- C. Company-wide reports: In the column titled "Total Dollar Value" enter the total dollar value of all federally-aid contracts worked on during the time period being reported. Project-specific reports: In the column titled "Total Dollar Value" enter the total dollar value of the specific project being reported on. If a contract is being worked on over a number of years, the full contract value should be counted each year on the Annual Employment Data Report. Subcontractor should only include the total dollar value they were awarded on the contract, not the full contract amount.
- D. Table A is to include the number of employees divided by job classifications, sex and ethnicity. Miscellaneous job classifications should be incorporated in the most appropriate category listed. Contractors must report white females as white females not minorities.
- E. In Table A, the columns titled Apprentice and Trainees must include the individuals in training by job category and sex. Any individual included in these columns should not be included in any other columns in Table A.
- F. Table B must include any apprentices or trainees reported in Table A. These employees should be divided by sex and ethnicity. The trainee and apprentice column in Table A should equal the total number in Table B.
- G. On the forms, the columns titled Total Emp. must equal the sum of the columns titled Total Minority and Non-Minority. In addition, the columns titled Total Minority must equal the sum of the columns titled African Amer., Hispanic, Native Amer., and Asian Amer. This is true for both male and female columns.
- H. The person who completed the report is to sign in the column titled "Prepared By".

5. Frequently Asked Questions

Who is required to submit the Subcontractor List?

All contractors who are considered the Prime Contractor on any MoDOT Federally Funded Projects.

What is the purpose of the Subcontractor List?

The purpose of the Subcontractor List is to give MoDOT an accurate list of what subcontractors actually performed work during the reported week.

Is there a certain form the Subcontractor List is to be filled out on?

There is no certain form, however, MoDOT requests that the list to be submitted on the company letterhead, unless the list is submitted electronically.

Should I submit a list of all of the Subcontractors that we have a subcontract with during that week, or just the Subcontractors that actually performed work during that week?

Only the Subcontractors that actually performed work during the reported week.

If we didn't have Subcontractors that week, do I have to submit a letter indicating that fact?

Yes, you are required to submit a letter indicating that you didn't have any subcontractors that worked on any MoDOT Federally Funded projects during the reported period.

Is it necessary to include suppliers in the Subcontractor List?

No, Suppliers are not included.

What if we didn't receive the MoDOT reminder notice until after the due date, and still have not submitted our subcontractor list?

In this situation, the prime contractor must submit the subcontractor list as soon as possible. Although MoDOT reminds the contractor of the requirement, it is the contractor's responsibility to complete and submit the subcontractor list by the required due dates.

If we didn't perform work during the week reported, do I have to submit a letter indicating that fact instead of the Data Report?

Yes, you are required to submit a letter indicating that you didn't perform any work on any MoDOT Federally Funded Projects during the reported period in place of the Data Report required at that time.

If we claim that we didn't perform work during the week reported, but MoDOT indicates that a Prime Contractor listed me as working that week, what do I do?

If MoDOT receives a letter or a 1391 from you indicating that you didn't perform during the reported week, but a Prime Contractor listed you as a subcontractor that did perform work, MoDOT will return your letter or 1391 form. MoDOT will include a letter informing you of the problem, and let you know what contractors listed you as working.

After checking, if you find that you did not work during the week, you will need to contact the Prime Contractor regarding this error. The Prime Contractor that listed your company must notify MoDOT that you did not work. If you find that you erroneously filed the report, and that you really did work, complete the 1391 report and submit it to MoDOT.

Is the 1391 form different than the Annual Data Report, the Pre-Season Data Report, and the Post Season Data Report?

No, all reporting forms request the same information.

If there was a change order on the job, what dollar figure do I use?

The dollar amount used should be the original amount of the contract.

How do we know if a project is federally funded?

The front cover of each MoDOT contract should indicate which types of funds are used for the project. If you are a Sub-contractor, you may have to contact the Prime contractor for the project to obtain this information. It may be wise for the EEO Officer to track the necessary information throughout the year.

Where do I obtain the information requested in tables A and B?

The information can be obtained from certified payrolls.

What if we have a job classification that is not listed on your form?

If a job classification is not listed on the form, that employee is included with whichever job classification it most closely relates to.

How is Table A to be completed?

The first column is Total Employees, which are the figures of the company's entire workforce broken out by craft. This column should be equal to the sum of the Total Minority Column and the Non-Minority Column. The Total Minority Column contains the figures of the entire minority workforce broken out in craft, and should be equal to the sum of the following columns: African American, Hispanic, Native American, and Asian American. The Apprentice and Trainee Columns should be the apprentices and trainees worked, broken out by craft.

How is Table B to be completed?

Table B is the Apprentice and Trainee workforce of the entire company, broken out by ethnicity. The Total Employee column in Table B must be the same as the Total of the Apprentice and Trainees column in Table A.

In Table A on the 1391, do we count Apprentices and Trainees in the total Employee Column and Total Minority Column?

In Table A, Apprentices and Trainees are not counted in the total Employment Column or the Total Minority Column.

Do we count the entire workforce, or just the employees that worked on MoDOT projects?

The report will just reflect employees that worked on the particular project. The company wide report will reflect company-wide employment figures.

If we work out of state, do we include only Missouri Projects, or the entire workforce in table A and B?

If a contractor is based in Missouri, but does some out of state work, the entire workforce should be provided. If a contractor has an office in Missouri, but also has offices in other states, the information should include the workforce that was used in Missouri alone.

Are past employees counted if they worked on projects that we worked on during the reporting periods?

Yes. As long as the person was employed during the time of the reporting period, they should be counted. The entire workforce during the reporting period is counted.

Do we count an employee even if they only worked for one or two days during the time period?

Yes.

Do we have to make any contact to our prime contractors or subcontractors for the completion of these reports?

No.

If we submit an incorrect report, what do we do?

If an incorrect report is submitted, MoDOT will return the report to the contractor with a letter indicating the problem. The contractor is expected to complete the report correctly and re-submit to MoDOT. Should the contractor realize that the report was submitted incorrectly, MoDOT asks that you re-submit the corrected report with a brief letter indicating the reason for re-submission.

Can I submit the reports and the subcontractor list electronically?

Yes, submit the reports to Missy.Stuedle@modot.mo.gov

If we have submitted the required report, but receive a letter from MoDOT indicating they did not receive the report, what should we do?

If MoDOT claims the report wasn't received, it could be because of several reasons. One common reason is that the report and letter crossed in the mail, meaning that MoDOT hadn't received the report before they sent out the letter.

In this case, e-mail MoDOT informing them of the error, and ask them to verify that the report was received. If we indicate that we haven't received the report, please re-submit the report, indicating that it is the second submittal. In any case, it is always a good idea to keep a copy of the original report that was submitted.

Can I check to make sure that MoDOT received the report?

Yes, send an e-mail to Missy.Stuedle@modot.mo.gov. In this e-mail, ask the specialist to respond to your e-mail, with indication to whether or not MoDOT has received your report. In this e-mail, be sure to inform the specialist of the contractor's name and the date the report was sent.

What if we didn't receive the MoDOT reminder notice until after the due date, and still have not submitted our data reports?

In this situation, the prime contractor must submit the data reports as soon as possible. Although MoDOT reminds the contractor of the requirement, it is the contractor's responsibility to complete and submit the data reports by the required due dates.

COMPANY LETTERHEAD

This firm does not maintain or provide for its employees any segregated facilities at any of our offices, work areas or job sites. This firm does not permit its employees to work at any location where segregated facilities are maintained.

This firm agrees that any breach of this certification is a violation of the equal opportunity provision of federally assisted highway contracts.

As used in this certification, the term “segregated facilities” means any waiting rooms, work areas, restrooms, portable toilets, time clocks, drinking fountains, eating areas, transportation and housing facilities provided for employees which are segregated by explicit directive, habit, local customs or otherwise.

Any breach of these clauses may be grounds for debarment as provided in 29 CFR 5.6(b).

Section VI – Training Requirements/Special Provisions

The intent of the OJT Program is to train and upgrade minority, female and economically individuals into the industry. Those individuals identified as minorities include African Americans, Native Americans, Asians and Hispanics. Non-minority males may be enrolled if the contractor is meeting workforce goals in all crafts on the project or if they can show they are economically disadvantaged.

Reimbursement

Trainee goals are set in 1,000 hour increments or 1 slot (person). If a trainee goal is 2,000 hours, no more than two trainees can be approved on the project to achieve the hours. Each trainee is expected to complete 1,000 hours on the project. Once a trainee reaches 500 hours on the project the RE office may begin reimbursement. The 500 hours only pertains to reimbursement purposes. It does not mean that if a trainee reaches 500 hours on the project the goal has been satisfied. If a trainee leaves the project to no fault of the contractor and needs to be replaced by a new trainee the hours worked by the previous trainee can be counted as well as the hours the replacement trainee works.

Transferring of Hours

Trainees and their hours may be transferred from project to project. Monthly trainee reports and payrolls would need to be submitted. The contractor may not bank trainee hours for future use.

Failure to Meet Goal

What happens when contractors fail to meet trainee goals?

- Liquidated Damages. For example, if a trainee goal on a project is 1,000 hours, and the contractor only completed 300 hours on the project then liquidated damages would be assessed for 700 hours x $7.00 = $4,900.
- No reimbursement for hours worked under 500 hours
- Contractor Performance Rating would be affected.
- If the contractor does not meet a training goal, they will be asked to submit a good faith effort (GFE) outlining the steps they took to meet the goal and the barriers that prevented them from achieving the goal.

The On-the Job (OJT) Training Special Provision is incorporated in all MoDOT contracts. In addition, the most recent version can be located on our website at:

http://www.modot.mo.gov/business/contractor_resources/External_Civil_Rights/jobtraining.htm

The most recent version of the trainee forms can be located on our website at:

Section VII – Recruitment Sources

The contractor shall establish and maintain a current list of minority and women recruitment sources. A listing of potential recruitments sources can be obtained from MoDOT by contacting us at 573-751-1216 or missy.stuedle@modot.mo.gov
