

Delivery

Be at the destination site at the agreed upon time of delivery. If you are not, and the delivery cannot be made, the mover has the right to place your goods into storage at your expense.

Usually, payment is due prior to unloading. Please note that movers are not required to accept certain types of payment, so ask ahead of time what your mover will accept.

It is recommended that you open any damaged boxes and boxes with valuable items or breakables in view of your mover. Do so before the job is finished, or the mover can charge you for the wait. Make a very specific note of any damages on the inventory or the delivery receipt before you sign it.
